

Ryan Ku

My name is Ryan Ku. I am the parent of two students currently in high school, and our family has been part of the CAIS community since 2023. Last year, I had the privilege of serving as a member of the School Council and was actively involved in the Connecting Parents group.

I would love to continue serving on the council because I am passionate about fostering a strong, supportive community among parents and strengthening the communication between the school and families. I believe that parental involvement plays a vital role in enriching the student experience, and I hope to contribute further to the positive growth of our school.

Vincent Kong

Hello CAIS Community, my name is Vincent Kong. Please allow me to introduce myself as a member of the CAIS School Council. Originally from Hong Kong and educated in Canada, I have been part of the CAIS family for nearly nine years.

For over two years, I have served on the CAIS School Council, a role that has allowed me to engage deeply with students, parents, and faculty. This experience has been immensely rewarding, and I am grateful for the trust and support of the CAIS community. I value our collaborative efforts to strengthen our school and am committed to continuing this work.

Joining the School Council was driven by my desire to contribute to the mission and vision of CAIS. I fully appreciate the school's vital role in the lives of our students, parents, and the broader community. I am eager to continue my service and help further our collective goals.

Joseph Wong

Serving on the School Council last year, I had the privilege of working with a group of devoted parents to contribute to the CAIS Community. With good effort spent, we were able to continuously enhance the schooling experience for the community - teachers, students as well as parents.

A great school is not just about academic results, but also students' experience, great management as well as a committed parent community. In this new academic year, I am hoping to continue the good work the working groups had started, participate new initiative we may have, and help build CAIS into the best Christian international school for Hong Kong community.

Jacky Tsui

My name is Jacky Tsui and my son joined CAIS in 2022.

I was blessed to be a member of the School Council for the past two years. During my time, I served in the Connecting Parents Taskforce and Kitchen Taskforce. The Connecting Parents Taskforce organized events such as Class Rep Evenings and Transition Seminar for parents and students to prepare for High School. In addition, we introduced the Sports Evenings in the school gyms/rooftop pitch for all CAIS parents to play and connect with each other. Started with basketball, we now also offer badminton, soccer and pickleball. On the other hand, the Kitchen Taskforce focused on the School Kitchen and we have been in touch with the Provider regularly to make suggestions for improvements.

This year, I hope to continue to build community amongst CAIS parents and I wish I will have the chance to meet you in one of our School Council events.

Yan Wong

Great to be a member of CAIS School Council since Year 2021, having the chance to work with the School hand in hand to build a joyful learning environment for kids. I am passionate about all-round educational development for my kid, both academic and moral.

As a member of the School Council, I commit to 1) bring in parents' voice to school's strategic direction; 2) cultivate two-way dialogue for School and parents; 3) stand for best interest of students and parents on school policy.

Sunny Lam

My girl joined CAIS in 2021, and has enjoyed great schooling since then. This is her fourth year at CAIS. By joining the CAIS School Council, I believe our family provides a positive example, and my girl will see first-hand the importance our family places on her education.

I wish to return as a School Council member to continue advocating for our students and fostering a collaborative environment among parents, teachers, and administration. My two years of experience have deepened my understanding of our school's needs and strengths. I am committed to enhancing educational opportunities and promoting initiatives that support student well-being and academic success. Together, we can build a stronger school community that empowers every child to thrive.

Monica Tai

My name is Monica Tai. I have been serving the School Council in the past 2 years. I am very happy to see that the community is growing and that everyone is doing their part together to make CAIS a better school. I believe God will shower us with blessings as we walk with His presence. Let's build a stronger community for our children and the school.

Jennifer Lee

This is Jennifer Lee. It is my 7th year with CAIS and my 6th term with the School Council as a parent representative. Needless to say that it would be an honor for me to serve on the council again for the work of strengthening the ties between the school and parents as well as within the parent circle, bringing the CAIS community closer and stronger to make positive impact around the school.

I look forward to meeting new SC members and collaborating with the team on various initiatives set for this upcoming term.

Linnet Ma

Born in Taiwan, raised in Japan, Los Angeles, Shanghai and Hong Kong, Linnet is the founder of Hong Kong Charity Bazaar, and had managed Elim Christian Bookstore for decades up till its closure in 2021. She spent the majority of her career in the retail industry, from a decade of retail management consulting to a leap of entrepreneurship in the online retail space. She is a member of The Vine Church, and has been serving for BSF for many years. She currently sits on the board for "Viva together for Children", an international charity with a vision for all children to be safe, thriving and learning, and living life in all its fullness by building and supporting networks that unite grassroots churches and organizations.

Linnet has been a parent at CAIS since 2018 and has 2 teenage daughters. She is passionate about building community, and hopes to create more opportunities for parents to connect and see a strengthened community at CAIS where people can feel a sense of belonging and find support from each other.

Andy Yeung

As the father of two CAIS students who first joined the school in 2023, I am extremely enthusiastic about rejoining the School Council this year. My commitment to being part of the CAIS family for the next decade, coupled with my passion for educational excellence, motivates me to actively contribute to the school's improvement.

I am privileged to have the opportunity to work with this elite group on educational matters and to offer stakeholder input into the school's strategic direction. This resonates deeply with me. Drawing from my professional experiences, which often involve enhancing communication and fostering collaboration, I am confident that I can contribute meaningfully to strengthening the bonds among parents, students, staff, and the broader community.

Having grown up and studied in Hong Kong, and with my wife being Taiwanese, we bring a diverse cultural perspective to the CAIS community.

Lawrence Leung

I was born in Hong Kong and have been living in the city since 1996 after I left Canada. I went to high school in Calgary, Alberta, and graduated from the University of Calgary.

Our son started attending CAIS since preparatory and he is now in Grade 8. Our girl started attending the school since last year and she is now primary school.

We are so blessed to have our children studying at CAIS. As a parent, I wish to contribute by helping the school to grow and improve. My interests include introducing additional sports activities to the school and providing career planning guidance to our students.

Rody Koliloedjoer

My name is Rody Koliloedjoer and I have 2 sons at CAIS. I have been involved with CAIS for over 8 years and this will be my 6th year serving on the School Council.

Serving on the School Council is my way of helping to build the CAIS community while also showcasing to my children that it is God's will for us to serve others. I feel honoured that I can work together with the school's leadership team as well as other parents to support the school and our children and will do my utmost best to contribute to the best of my abilities.

Benny Pang

Born in Hong Kong and spent my upper high school and university in Australia, I started my legal career in Australia and have been practicing for over 20 years in Hong Kong, the US and Australia specializing in corporate and securities law. Recently I have joined a listed company as part of its senior management team overseeing the group's operations and overseas expansion.

I served as a member of CAISPA in 2018 when my daughter joined CAIS and I have been a parent representative of CAIS School Council since January 2019. I am glad to see how the school has evolved over the years and I am proud to be part of this exciting CAIS family. The pandemic has caused significant delay for a lot of the original initiatives. However with the recent completion of the various phases of the school, there is no better time to promote the school to Hong Kong and overseas and to build a strong united school community. I hope my experience over the years and my network as a lawyer and an entrepreneur can help this community in providing the best education and environment for all kids at CAIS.

Kathleen Iu

My name is Kathleen Iu. I have three children currently attending CAIS. Our family has been a part of the CAIS community since the 2021-2022 academic year. I have served as Class Parent Representative for my children's classes for the past two years, and am continuing to serve as Class Representative for all three of my children's classes this year.

Two years ago, I left my work as an educator to focus on supporting my children in their school and home life. I have witnessed how important a role Parent-School collaboration plays in the quality of student life. Being Class Representative, I was able to use some of my knowledge and expertise as both a teacher and a mother of three, and am keen to utilise this experience to further serve the wider school community. As such, I am interested in serving as a member of the CAIS School Council in order to collaborate and contribute more to school improvement.

Judy (Bau Wai Ling)

This is Judy. I studied and worked a few years in Sydney, Australia and was an English teacher in an international kindergarten before I gave birth to my daughter. I'm a full time mom in all these years. But I'm starting my own marketing business this year.

I'm looking forward to working as part of the council team and make a great one in the school community.

Alison Lam

I am Alison, a mother of two kids and part of the CAIS family since 2023 when my son joined the preparatory class.

I was born in Hong Kong and raised in the UK. I am qualified as a lawyer in England and Wales and in Hong Kong. I repatriated to Hong Kong in 2004 and have been here since. I am also the founder of a charitable organisation targeting under-privileged children, hoping to give them inspiration and bolster their confidence. I show my kids the important value of Community when they participate in the charity events. I am passionate about child development and also have first-hand experience in mentoring children, providing them with education and career advice.

I believe a nurturing environment is paramount to every child's learning journey whilst only close parent-school collaboration can create such atmosphere. I therefore joined the School Council hoping to contribute in this respect. Through active participation, I wish to help the school and CAIS families forge a good partnership and build a stronger bond, while personally growing alongside my children during their education journey.
